Your participation is mandatory since this workshop is essential to complete the Dictionary. The Manuscripts submitted to Kannada University Hampi by me, have been reviewed and university raised concern over publishing the Dictionary. I thus request your participation and contribution in the workshop.

Workshop on Standardisation of Gondi Dictionary (9 to 11 January 2017)

Gondi is one of the main Adivasi languages in India. It is spoken by more than 5 million people in 6 states of Central India (some Gondi scholars claim the number to be near to 10 million). Though Gondi is one of the oldest languages of the country (and some Gondi scholars claim that if one knows Gondi script then you can also decipher Harappan scripts which is from the same time period) but because it has not been used for education and mass communication purposes so lots of words from dominant regional and state languages have entered the language. Today instead of one Gondi we have ‘Telugu Gondi’ in Telangana and Andhra Pradesh, ‘Hindi Gondi’ in Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, ‘Marathi Gondi’ in Maharashtra, ‘Odiya Gondi’ in Odisha, Kannada Gondi in Karnataka and so on. Before we can popularize a common Gondi mass communication platform for all Gondi speakers spread over 12 states, it is essential to create a standard form of Gondi language which will be accepted by all Gondi speakers. The Standardised Gondi dictionary can go to Govt of India as an application to include Gondi language in 8th schedule of Indian Constitution.

With the help of Ministry of Culture, Govt of India at Gandhi Smriti & Darshan Samiti-Delhi we have done a preliminary workshop in July 2014. Where we’ve collectively worked with Scholars from 6 states and structured the process of Standardization. The Standard Gondi Dictionary is a compilation of various dialects and forms of Gondi spoken across Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Chhattisgarh, Telangana, Andhra Pradesh and Odisha regions.

CGNet & Adivasi Swara, a mobile phone based community media platform has helped to organize and has participated in the all previous series of workshops across various Gondi regions in India. This Standard Gondi Dictionary project is voluntarily supported by Academic institutions, Central and State government bodies, voluntary organizations and members of Community as a whole. This experiment is one of its kind and unique in its form and approach. The details of previous workshops are as followed:

The Gondi Standardisation Dictionary committee in May 2016 met in Chintooru of East Godhavari district in Andhra Pradesh to form an Editorial board and discussed a way forward to speedy completion of the project. Prof. KM Metry, Dept of Tribal studies, Kannada University, Hampi is the Editor and Director of the “Gondwana Gondi Dictionary”. Language experts from each region are part of the Editorial committee. Compiled Dictionary manuscripts submitted to Kannada University by Prof. KM Metry have been reviewed and University concerned interest in publishing the Dictionary. It is a compilation of 2850 Gondi words which have their varied forms from each identified region. At the moment we are in search of technical assistance to have IPA for each Gondi word of the Dictionary. As soon as the IPA conversion is done, the Dictionary is further set to a final review and publishing.

12th National Gond Conference will be held in Kaginele Mahasanstana, Kanaka Gurupeetha, Tinthani bridge, Devadurg Taluk, Raichur district, Karnataka between 12, 13, 14 January 2017.
